Market Updates

Each month, Shamrock WM will share an update with you to let you know what's happened in the markets plus offer some personal notes from our team. Let's get started by sharing a brief look at what the month of August looked like in the markets.

Last week came with the release of hotter-than-expected August inflation data. The Consumer Price Index (CPI) saw an increase of 0.1 percent against expectations for a decrease of that amount. Read more here.

TEAM NOTES:

Will's Top Ten - Fall Favorites

1. The childhood memory of the smell of fall on my skin after playing football in my front yard.
2. Remembering my first fall in Collegeville, MN in 1987. I thought fall in Stearns County was the most amazing spot in the world. The Twins won the World Series that year, too!
3. Playing golf in September!
4. Driving through the streets of St Paul and having residential streets covered in changing leaves.
5. Looking at the banks of The Mississippi every day on my drive to work!
6. Buying school supplies!!!
7. Eating a bowl of Chili in front of a Nebraska football game - when they used to be good! Oh, the Chili must be paired with a homemade cinnamon roll, too. (It's a Nebraska thing.)
8. Starting a fire in the backyard (in my firepit, of course) and relaxing with a cold beer.
9. Playoff baseball
10. Getting an extra hour of sleep at the end of the daylight savings time change!

Below: Jalapeno Dill Pickles: Dill, cucumbers, garlic, and jalapenos.

Left: Pickled Vegetables: Cauliflower, carrots, beans, cucumbers, white onion, celery, dill, garlic, and jalapenos.

Kurt Celebrates Family

My wife and I grew up in Illinois, and a lot of our family remains in Illinois, but the matriarch of my family lives in Minnesota. So, it's not surprising that we go visit the family every now and then. This month, we went to Illinois to celebrate my great niece's (Lainey) 2nd birthday. It was fun taking my Mom to see her great granddaughter, and now a great grandson (Joey) (7 months old).

Heidi's One Day Pickling Adventure!

One of my favorite weekend activities is to visit the Farmer's Market in downtown Minneapolis. Recently, I purchased fresh vegetables from the Hmong farmers at the Minneapolis Farmer's Market. Next canning adventure is a bushel of tomatoes from the Amish in the Staples, MN area. Bon Appetit!
